This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE.

THE present volume of American Book-Prices Current records 8859 lots, of which 8315 are books and 544 autographs, selected from the catalogues of 117 sales. These 117 catalogues represent more than 250 days' sales and aggregate more than 102,000 lots. Though the lots recorded represent 25 per cent more than the total number of those recorded during the preceding season, the number of catalogues is only slightly in excess of last season's issues. From this statement, we should, naturally, make the deduction that the catalogues had been more extensive and the sales more important. That this is the case is shown by our series of selected records, which in number is more than 1300 in excess of those of the preceding season.

A few well-known collections have been dispersed at auction, and, while the number of books which reached a very high price has not been great, the aggregate of collectors' books is considerable. Perhaps the most important library dispersed during the year was that of Alfred S. Manson, of Boston. It was almost entirely made up of historical works relating to New England, and, while it included very few of the earliest original editions, there was an extremely large number of pieces of local interest to New England collectors. The books were, generally, in good condition, and no such important collection of New England history has been offered for several years. The most important item as regards price in the Manson sale was the set of Massachusetts Magazine, Vols. I.–VIII. (all published) being the set which belonged to Andrews, the publisher, and which brought $480.00.

The sale occupied eight days, February 14 to 17, and March 14 to 17.

The library of another Boston collector, Charles Eadward Pratt, deceased, was sold by C. F. Libbie & Co., April 4 to 7. Mr. Pratt had been making a study of the French settlements in North America, and had brought together a number of rare original narratives, including several editions of Champlain and Lescarbot.

The stock of George H. Richmond & Co., booksellers, which occupied six catalogues, was sold by Bangs & Co., February 20–24, March 6–10, March 20–24, April 10–14, April 24–28, and May 15–17. The closing out of this business at auction was the final passing from the field of what were, for many years, two of the best-known second-hand booksellers in the country. George H. Richmond & Co., about four years ago, bought out David G. Francis, one of the best-known survivors of the previous generation of second-hand booksellers. Shortly afterward, they bought out S. B. Luyster, who has succeeded his brother, A. L. Luyster, their store having been, for many years, one of the most important down-town stores for second-hand English books.

The library, described as belonging to "A Well-known Philadelphia Collector," but known to be that of Howard Edwards, was sold in Philadelphia, October 19–21. It was particularly remarkable for the collection of American editions of the Bible and Prayer Book. A few of the most important items in these lines brought good prices, but the others went low.

The library of the late Rt. Rev. William Stevens Perry was dispersed during the year in four sales. The first section sold in New York, October 10–14; the second in Philadelphia June 6 and 7; the third in Philadelphia, June 15, and the last, comprising his theological books, in Philadelphia, on June 16.

The collection of the late Henry T. Cox, of Brooklyn, was sold by Bangs & Co., April 17–20. These books were mostly in fine bindings and generally brought very high prices. His first editions of Dickens and Thackeray, especially the latter, sold at considerably higher prices than equally good copies could have been bought for at the prominent bookshops.

The chronological list following contains several collections of a little less note, besides a list of the minor sales, made up from consignments by various parties, including several lots sent over by English booksellers.

As will be seen by this list, the number of sales held in New York much exceeds those held elsewhere. In justice to Boston and Philadelphia we should, however, state that while their sales are in progress they generally hold two sessions a day, while in New York there is rarely more than a single session.

The issues of the Kelmscott Press have shown, during the year, a more remarkable advance in price than any other class of books. In previous volumes of our compilation these books have been entered alphabetically under the author's name and distributed throughout the volume. They are now, however, all entered under Kelmscott Press. We have also added records of sales of the same books in London at several important sales which have taken place during the year.

The arrangement otherwise is identical with the preceding volumes. Books are entered under their author, where the author is known; otherwise, under the first important word of the title. To this there are some exceptions. Anonymous histories and biographies will usually be found under their subjects. The publications of clubs and societies are usually under the name of the society; but occasionally publications of some of the minor societies will be found under the name of their author. Different books by the same author are arranged alphabetically by titles, and different editions of the same book are arranged according to date of publication. The autographs are, of course, arranged alphabetically by authors.

The date given under each lot is that of the first day of the sale. The full period covered may be found by referring to the chronological list of sales following this preface. The number in parenthesis is the original lot number in the sale catalogue. Books in American auction rooms are sold by the volume, but the prices here given are for the lot, not per volume.

In the Index the books are classified by subjects. We have tried to make it especially full in American local history. As many collectors are interested especially in books relating to certain states and towns, local histories have been put under the state and afterward under the town. The names of states have been set in black-faced type and those of the towns in small capitals.

The abbreviations used in describing the autographs are well known to all collectors. A. L. S. is Autograph Letter Signed; A. L. is Autograph Letter, unsigned; L. S. is Letter Signed, the signature only autographic; D. S. is Document Signed.

On back of title was the following note by Joel Munsell: "This work was edited by Sherman Croswell, who also added the supplement. He was the son of the Rev. Henry Croswell, then an aged Episcopal rector, and had but recently graduated from Yale. He soon after came to Albany, and was for many years joint editor with his cousin, Edwin Croswell, of the Albany Argus. I set up nearly all the types myself, and the press-work was done on a Smith hand-press by James F. Babcock, afterwards editor of the New Haven Palladium, Oct. 1871. J. M."
